The REACH Project is having its 3rd annual “Block Party Festival” at the Hickory Grove Library, 5935 Hickory Grove Rd, Charlotte, NC 28215.

On Saturday, August 11, 2012 volunteers from REACH and the surrounding area will be handing out backpacks filled with school supplies, for children in need within the community.

We are reaching out to the local businesses and industry sectors of Charlotte, asking for their assistance in helping these most deserving children get the school supplies they so desperately need to have a successful jump start on the upcoming school year.

Your contribution and taxable donations would make a world of difference in a child’s education.
